

Gayla Wick
DENVER LOVE COACH

Guiding women through the secrets of attracting love – no more kissing frogs!

Single women looking for an authentic love relationship are enjoying working with Gayla Wick, transformational love coach, author, and speaker. Successful, smart, single women who've been disappointed by failed love relationships and now desire real results are raving about Gayla's Love Coaching Program. Her enlightening, powerful four-step process shows women how to overcome their personal relationship barriers so they can start attracting love rather than searching for it, how to attract an authentic love relationship that is in alignment with their core values and how to create the sustainable love relationship of their dreams.

What clients are saying:

"I was so shut down from bad relationships. This program really helped me to find myself again and start to heal. My spirit is free again and I know I deserve much more in a love relationship." Janine, Occupational Therapist.

"I passionately recommend the Love Coaching program. The process is creative and expansive. My most insightful take away has been the realization that I have NEVER chosen in relationships. I have always just reacted to someone else. I've spent more time doing a grocery list (and I do not even cook much :)) than I have on really defining what is important to me with a significant other. Thank you Gayla for a beautiful and fun process!" Jeanette, Massage Therapist

How Gayla's Expertise and Experience Can Serve You

Gayla discovered her passion for helping other women after experiencing the break-up of her first marriage while simultaneously losing interest in her chosen career in Corporate America. While on her personal recuperative and spiritual journey, Gayla met and married the love of her life. It was then she decided to find out more from happily coupled women by investigating just how they'd attracted their ideal partner.

After a yearlong project of interviewing women from across the country, including Trista Sutter from the Bachelor and Bachelorette television shows, Gayla decided to share this information –real wisdom from women who have their dream love relationship. She is the author of The Art of Attracting Authentic Love (A Transformational Four-Step Process) and a love coach for those ready to learn and apply what she’s discovered – the powerful secrets of how attracting love really works.

Prior to becoming the Denver Love Coach and author, Gayla had a twenty – five year career in corporate leadership roles. She is a graduate of Northeastern University with a Master of Science Degree and was the first female police officer in a thirty-five member New England police department. Gayla is a Certified NLP Practitioner and member of the Colorado National Speaker’s Association.

On the Personal side

“Deliriously happy” is how Gayla likes to describe her marriage with husband, Allan. They live in the Denver metro area and love to travel, especially to the white sandy beaches of the Caribbean. Happily married (something she once thought to be an oxymoron) was not always her reality. Following the painful end of her first marriage, Gayla was seriously pessimistic about the existence of a truly happy and soul-satisfying love relationship. Then she discovered the secrets for attracting authentic love and now loves sharing her four-step formula with women ready to attract an authentic love connection.
